

Catching Creative Insight From DreamTime

- The right brain generates creative intelligence and some of its best ideas happen when you are in the drowsy state between half-asleep and fully awake.
- So use the practice - Start the Day Positive – to mine your dreams by checking before you begin that meditation to see if your right brain has any new creative insights to offer you.

Write it here and on the back of this page.